PRESS RELEASE

Andreas Ivarsson — new Director of Projects & Developments at Wihlborgs

Wihlborgs' Director of Projects & Developments Ulrika Hallengren is to take over the role as CEO of Wihlborgs when Anders Jarl is proposed as Chairman. In conjunction with this, Andreas Ivarsson will become the new Director of Projects & Developments.

Andreas Ivarsson has been working as a property developer at Wihlborgs since August 2017. He joined Wihlborgs from a position as Area Manager for Skandia Fastigheter. Andreas worked at Skandia for eleven years where his duties included driving the Masthusen development in the Västra hamnen district of Malmö — an extensive urban regeneration project in an area that once included the Malmömässan exhibition centre. Previously, Andreas has worked at MKB, Ikano and been part of building up Fastighetsbolaget PBA in Karlskrona.

“Andreas has performed well showing great drive and professionalism in the six months he has spent with us. Moreover, he has considerable market credibility and substantial experience of development and leadership. We have numerous exciting development projects in progress, and I am convinced that Andreas is the right person to drive these forward,” says Anders Jarl, CEO of Wihlborgs Fastigheter.

“It is a fantastic opportunity to be able to develop and add value to Wihlborgs' outstanding project portfolio, and I look forward with respect toward this inspiring challenge. We have a highly skilled project team and, in collaboration with our regions, we will continue to drive Wihlborgs forward with our customer- and business-centric approach. And naturally, we will do this together with the municipalities in which we operate,” says Andreas Ivarsson, incoming Director of Projects & Developments at Wihlborgs Fastigheter.

Andreas Ivarsson will be responsible for some ten members of the project and development team and will also join Wihlborgs' Group Management. He will take office on 1 March.
